

MJG Cares Program

MJG Communications established its MJG Cares program to assist area nonprofit organizations. Each year, the company will provide an organization with public relations and marketing consulting at no cost.

The program allows the annually-selected nonprofit organization to apply its precious resources to reaching its mission, while increasing awareness and building a strong brand. MJG Communications begins working with the organization on or after October 1, and completes a specified amount of work between then and July of the following year.

Selection of finalist organization is based on the following criteria:

- the specific needs of the organization; and
- likelihood that our assistance will have a lasting or significant impact on the organization's ability to carry out its mission

Final selection is based on interviews with organization's staff and directors. Selected organization is responsible for implementation costs.
